

The Hartford Courant.

Established 1764

Canton

Canton news notes

Praise for artwork

■ Congratulations to artist David Boyajian, the town of Canton, its Creative Arts Council, donors including the Connecticut Commission on the Arts, The Courant, Southern New England Telephone and to many private individuals for making the creation of what I think is one of Connecticut's finest public sculptures.

This sculpture is not only aesthetically majestic: it is also historically, socially and environmentally informative. This work of art is called Canton Gate. Commemorating the celebration of the Canton Creative Arts Council's 25 years, David Boyajian, through his sculpture, lets us and future generations know something of the essence of today. His is a statement of a time and place.

CANTON GATE by David Boyajian

Truly, Canton Gate is a work of art to be seen, enjoyed and from which to learn.

Philip M. Janes
Simsbury

Janes is president/director of the Arts Exclusive Gallery